Drama Continues

Up until the year of 1988, the harbor of Chatham, behind the protective bulwark of the Chatham Bar, could well have been described as a sleepy lagoon. That bar, which extends for miles up the coast to Orleans, was land mass thick enough and sturdy enough to withstand the assault of the waves of the Atlantic. While the breakers smashed on the bar, hardly a ripple disturbed the peace of the inner bay. All that became history when the bar broke, opposite the Coast Guard lighthouse. Ever since, the sand which formed the Chatham Bar has been carried in by the force of an ever increasing surf until last year building a magnificent beach below the cliff at the lighthouse two or three football fields deep. Now, once again, nature has played around. This huge width of beach is gone. Now and again, according to the people on the beach, it reappears under the encouragement of the surf and then it disappears. This shifting sand of old Cape Cod is now being inched seaward on the inside of the outer Bar to form a middle bar south of the ever-widening break.

New Surf, above and below, has power.

Paper Drives are Back in Town

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
SEPTEMBER 11, 1990- by Virginia Morgan

It has been many years since town residents have had a place to take newspapers for collection for recycling. On Saturday, October 13th, and Sunday, October 14th, the town will be starting off with a two-day collection in cooperation with CLEAN, Inc., a new organization originating in Rochester.

Selectmen last Tuesday agreed to allow the group to collect papers with a truck placed on a site yet to be approved by the Board of Selectmen. The now vacant A & P lot on Route 6 and the sanitary landfill off North Street were discussed as probable sites.

Robert Field of the Board of Health was also present, and he agreed the town should do this October collection with Rochester until such time as the Health Board has appointed its own collection and recycling committee. "We will be appointing a possible 12 member committee to set up a recycling program for Mattapoisett", Mr. Field said.

The initiators of the Clean collection, Polly Savaria and Donna Zibro will check with the owner of the A & P property to see if this lot can be used. If not, the Board of health will cooperate in allowing someone to oversee the collection at the landfill.

Ms. Savaria explained CLEAN, Inc. has been conducting the collection drive in Rochester about every six weeks through a trucking firm in R.I. that takes its paper to a site in the New Jersey area for recycling. "This tractor trailer truck holds 20 tons. On our first collection we filled the truck; however, on subsequent collections we only collected five tons. In order to continue with the trucking firm we need more paper as he won't travel this distance to each town to collect only five tons. That's why it will be to the advantage of both towns to collect jointly." Ms. Savaria indicated she planned to inquire if the Town of Fairhaven is interested in joining the collection program.

Ms. Savaria said there have been many Mattapoisett people participating in the Rochester collection taking their papers to the trailer truck in front of the Rochester Town Hall. "We are asking you (Selectmen) to allow a truck to be parked for two days (October 13-14) for Mattapoisett residents. When the truck is full it will be taken to Rochester and transferred to the trailer truck. A volunteer from CLEAN will be in attendance at the Mattapoisett collection site."

Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney said he would like to see a truck left at the Mattapoisett site when the full truck leaves for Rochester so that papers won't be left on the ground. "This could create a problem", he added. Ms. Savaria said this could be arranged.

Selectmen did agree to join in Rochester's collection at least until Mattapoisett gets its own collection/recycling program going.

Ms. Savaria explained the truck will be on the site agreed upon from Friday afternoon until Monday morning. "We need to let peo-

Table Clocks

Country Sports Horse & Hounds Full moon Roses *Basket of Fruit

The bold Victorian Images of sailor and ship, castle and countryside contrast with the soft colours of the Birds & Flowers Series. The outdoor scenes of the Country Landscape Series, with its browns and greens, provide yet another contrast. Taken together, these colourful dials give a fine insight into the creativity and skill of the 19th century dial artist.

Each full colour dial is set into a specially designed frame and each clock comes attractively boxed with its guarantee on the quartz movement and a description of the face design.

INTO FAMILY EYE CARE

What is the difference between a bifocal with a line and one without a line?

The conventional bifocal which most people are used to seeing has a line. The purpose of the bifocal is to correct a person's vision when focusing on distant objects and objects that are close. Each of these corrections requires a different type of lens. One would be thicker and shaped differently from the other. The line is created when these two different sizes and shapes are placed next to one another.

Recent advances in lens technology has created what is called the progressive power lens which has no line. What is wonderful about these lenses is that they give the patient a better range of vision from near to far in one lens, without lines.

Congregational Church

MATTAPOISETT

During these weeks of crisis in the Middle East, there is no lack of inflammatory words traveling across the airwaves, inviting public consumption and galvanizing unholy alliances. Are there better responses to this present condition? Do we as Christians have an obligation to look a little deeper than our leaders are, and to take a more thoughtful, long-term approach to a solution that can possibly even transform us?

"Allah is Angry" - Part II - "A Christian Response" will be the title of the sermon on Sunday, September 23rd, at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. The service begins at 10:00 a.m. and nursery service is available during the worship time.

Recycling Plastics

"Dig a trench through a landfill and you will see layers of phone books like geological strata, or layers of cake. In the very-low-oxygen environment of the trash dump, neither paper, nor plastic, nor many other substances degrade quickly; William Rathja (archaeologist and anthropologist at U. of Arizona) reports finding newspapers dating back to 1952 that looked so fresh you might read one over breakfast." "Perils of Plastic" by Elizabeth Collins, Health, June 1990.

To me this is SCARY. If paper is in this solid state for 40 years (at least), just look at plastic. It's derived from petroleum. Toxicity is involved in this process (part of which aids in disintegrating our protective ozone layer). So, from the very onset, plastics are trouble for our fragile planet. Then after use, plastic may not break down for hundreds of years. Here, again in the break-down process, toxic materials may poison our groundwater.

Plastic affects our sea life, too. Dead turtles have been found - death due to ingesting plastic (which resembles their delicacy-jellyfish).

At this present time it is not practical for industry to switch to widespread biodegradable plastic. WHY? Because recycling of plastic is not done on a big enough scale to make this feasible. It is up to us - the people who use these plastic containers, wraps, detergent bottles, etc. to demand that this material be fully recycled by industry. All plastic is being collected at recycle centers as long as it is kept separate from the milk and juice "jugs" (these must be in a plastic bag and flattened).

The answer to this problem is easy - a massive recycling effort is the way to go. One of the things we can do is write to our federal, state and local representatives to SUPPORT THE RECYCLING EFFORT. The less plastic we use, the less we have to burn, bury or pile onto the trash mountains of our Earth!

We can do it!

From Mattapoisett Center School

OPENING DAY

On Wednesday, September 5th, the staff at Mattapoisett's Center school had the pleasure to welcome back approximately 320 students to the 1990-91 school year. We look forward to another exciting year with "our" children, and are confident that the children will find their learning experience at Center School to be a truly rewarding one.

Of special note, we had the distinct pleasure to welcome 85 kindergarten students to Center School, who in future years will be known as the Class of 2003. In order to enable our kindergarteners to make a smooth transition to Center school, a new Kindergarten Orientation Program was developed by Principal John Murphy and Kindergarten Teachers Yolanda Lesto, Constance Suzan and Rosemary Bowman for all kindergarteners and their parents. The purpose of this program was to alleviate some of the common fears that kindergarteners may have upon entering school (such as riding the school bus, separating from mom and dad, knowing where his/her classroom is, and/or knowing who his/her teacher is) and make their first experience at Center School a positive one. After the regular school buses finished bringing in all the students to grades 1-3, three of the buses went out and picked up all the kindergarten students in the morning session, and their parents, for the ride to Center School. Upon arrival at school they were greeted by Principal Murphy who welcomed all to Center School. The parents then escorted their child to his/her kindergarten classroom, introduced themselves and their child and went to the school auditorium for a parent meeting. Principal Murphy and Mrs. Demers, the school Nurse, conducted the parent meeting to review information on transportation, school insurance, emergency procedures and health regulations. Parents also received a copy of the newly developed Kindergarten Handbook for Parents which contained information and answered some of the commonly asked questions about the Kindergarten Program at Center School.

This past summer two of our Memorial School staff members attended the Math Their Way workshop. Mrs. Lincoln and Mrs. Pond participated in this week-long program and are now anxious to apply this knowledge in the classroom.

Miss Danni Kleiman and Jodi Maxwell attended "Cofratute 90" held at the University of Connecticut. This summer institute on the gifted and talented was held from July 16-26.

This year's opening of Memorial School was a memorable event. All school activities proceeded without interruption for the first time in several years. The construction is complete and all school facilities were in full operation. Students and staff alike had a very enjoyable day.

While the parent meeting was taking place, the children had their own orientation program in their classroom with their kindergarten teacher and new classmates. This provided an opportunity for the students and their teacher to get to know one another. The program lasted one hour, and at the conclusion of the program parents went back to their child's room to pick up their child for the return trip home. The Kindergarten Orientation Program was repeated for those kindergarten students in the afternoon session, and their parents, later that same day.

We received very positive feedback from parents and were quite pleased that all 85 children and their parents were able to attend the Orientation Program. We appreciate that parents were able to take the time from their jobs and busy schedules to assist us in making their child's first public school experience a most positive one.

PC Action of S.E. Mass.

PC Action of Southeastern Massachusetts is presently recruiting members for the year 1990-1991.

We are interested in attracting new users who will share ideas and applications. Our meetings are held in the afternoon on a monthly basis at Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School in Rochester, in the Microcomputer Laboratory. We also meet at members' homes at various times during the year for a more social exchange.

Some monthly meetings involve the introduction of new software applications by guest speakers; members participate in selecting the agenda.

When necessary, we spend time familiarizing new users with the personal computer and basic DOS functions.

Members should have access to a personal computer which is either an IBM or clone. We also introduce mouse and modem applications.

Please call Dona Strode at 763-8011 during the day or at 993-3624 during the evening hours to register for our first meeting this year, scheduled for Thursday, September 20th, at 3:00 p.m.

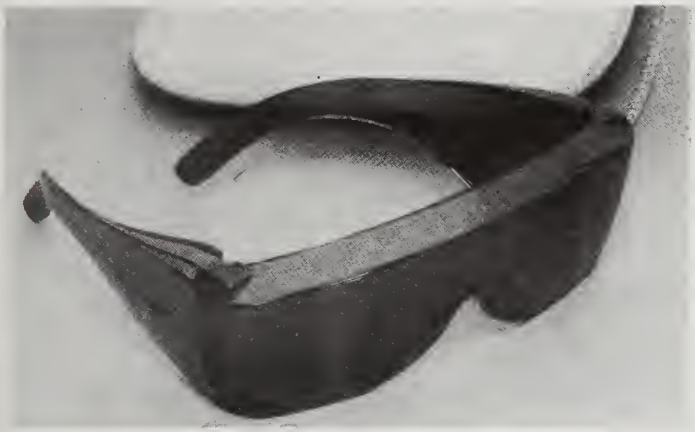
For Sports and Outdoor Protection



SOLARSHIELDS

SOLARSHIELDS give far more comfort as a sunlens than normal sunglasses. Whether hiking, fishing, sailing or relaxing at the beach, the non-prescription goggle fits easily over glasses or can be worn alone. Skiers, golfers, pilots or anyone concerned with top performance can benefit from a total UV sunscreen - and enjoy the comfort.

Photophobia:
Some people are more sensitive to light than others. For those in need of a "serious sunlens", the SOLARSHIELDS offer complete UV absorption to 400 nm and a choice of tints for comfort in the visible spectrum. Even with a dilated pupil behind the dark tint, the eye is fully protected due to special UV filters in the polycarbonate material. Top and side shields screen out all incident light.

For Cataract Patients
The aphakic eye is extremely vulnerable to postoperative retinal problems if not protected against hazardous ultraviolet radiation.

SOLARSHIELDS replace the same UV filter lost with the removal of the crystalline lens. Immediate comfort and complete retinal protection from UV make SOLARSHIELDS an excellent addition to standard post-operative procedures.

Mattapoisett Council on Aging

A SPECIAL THANK YOU

At present we have twenty-four volunteers who visit former Mattapoisett residents in 17 area nursing homes.

The Council wishes to thank these 24 very special compassionate people who take time out of their lives each month to visit their elderly, frail neighbors, who are now in nursing homes. To all of you, the Council would like to say that this program is successful only because of you -- we couldn't do it without you.

Please notify the Council if you know of a relative, friend or neighbor who has recently been admitted or is going to be admitted into a nursing home. We want to be sure to add them to our list and have our volunteers befriend them.

Mattapoisett Board of Appeals

DECISIONS ANNOUNCED

On a Board of Appeals decision of August 30, the application of John F. Denham, Jr. and Thelma T. Denham, 9 Hawthorne Street relating to property located at 9 Hawthorne Street, it was determined that no special permit is required for continuation of the business use currently being conducted on the applicants' property; therefore, it is a permitted right.

The applicants' business is nonconforming and was used by the Denham family-owned site work and storage business from 1957 to 1967 prior to the zoning by-law adoption in November 1967, when the property became part of a single family residence district. It is now a lawful pre-existing nonconforming use entitled to the "grandfather" protection of the zoning by-law. The entitlement is a matter of law as provided in the statute, cases and zoning regulations, regardless of the residential character of the neighborhood today, particularly the area southerly of the applicants' property where single family residences exist on both sides of the paved part of Hawthorne Street.

Testimony of John Denham and Barry J. Denham described that the same business use is being carried on today. The business has grown; the work is more intensive; the trucks and equipment are larger and more efficient; the piles of materials used in the business today are larger; and the trucks bringing in the materials over the paved part of Hawthorne Street from Park Street to the applicants' property are also larger. The current use of the property, however, reflects the nature of the pre-existing nonconforming use. There is a difference in the degree of intensity of such use, but not a difference in the quality and character of the use. It is not a substantial extension of such use, but just a continuation of the pre-existing 1967 business use.

Two special permits were granted on August 30 by the Board. Robert A. Leidhold and Carl J. Leidhold of 43 South Main Street, Acushnet relating to property located at 12-14 Fairhaven Road were granted a permit for the conversion of a single family three bedroom house to two one bedroom apartments, being the front dwelling at 12-14 Fairhaven Road in the Rural Residence and Marine Residence Districts.

The front is a two-story dwelling over 150 years old and approximately 1,472 square feet. The dwelling and lot meet the density requirements and area, frontage and side and rear setbacks. However, the dwelling has a street setback of only 24 feet and is therefore lawfully nonconforming. The sewage dis-

Nine letters were submitted from abutters stating they have no objection to the special permit. The Board determined the conversion will not be detrimental to the establishment and future character of the neighborhood and town.

The second special permit was granted to Barbara Ann McGloin, 25 Linden Street, Garden City, New York relating to property located at 7 Nashawena Road. The permit was granted for alterations to an existing non-conforming structure, a single family dwelling, on a nonconforming lot in the Antassawamock Beach section in the Waterfront District.

The dwelling is a 1½ story wood framed house on three foot posts, containing 920 square feet. The land contains 3,500 square feet. The plan is to raise the house to 15.1 feet above sea level, approximately an additional 12 feet, to construct a full dormer on the south side which will allow increase in size of the third bedroom to add a second bathroom on the second floor. This dormer will also have an open porch; to add entrance stairs on both the back and front of the house which will increase the footprint area by approximately 144 square feet.

Reading Recovery Program

An exciting new component will be added to the reading curriculum at the Sippican School in Marion and the Rochester Memorial School in Rochester. The Reading Recovery Program, developed by New Zealand educator and psychologist Dr. Marie Clay, is an early intervention program for children who are experiencing difficulty in their first year of reading instruction.

The primary goals of Reading Recovery are to reduce reading failure through early intervention and to help children become lifelong independent readers. This is accomplished by: 1) bringing grade one students "at risk" of reading failure up to the average of their class; and 2) helping these children develop a self-improving system for continued growth in reading so that additional help is not necessary.

In addition to their regular classroom reading instruction, Reading Recovery first graders are taught one-on-one for 30 minutes each day by a teacher who has been specifically trained in Reading Recovery techniques. L.I.F.T. Teacher at Institute Mattapoisett L.I.F.T. Program teacher Louise Hague was selected by the Harvard Graduate School of Education to attend its summer institute on reading, writing and civic education. Tuition costs of the program presented August 8-16 were completely underwritten by the Lincoln and Therese Filene Foundation, one which is strongly interested in promoting active and responsible citizenship.

The institute is designed primarily for administrators and secondary (grades 7-12) teachers in English or the humanities, as well as in history or social studies. This summer fifty educators from twenty states attended the program, now in its fourth year.

The faculty is led by Dr. Sandra Stotsky of the Harvard Graduate School of Education and includes noted speakers from Harvard and other universities.

The institute's primary focus is upon the key competencies essential for participation in self-government. Topics included: "Reading and Citizenship: Are We Literate Enough to Meet Our Civic Responsibilities?", "Literature and the Forging of Civic Identity", "The Uses of Argument in Civic Education", "Beyond Voting: Thinking About Citizen Participation", "Strategies for Developing Student Participation in Community Life", "Student Generated Questions, Independent Critical Thinking, and the Research Paper", "Building Civic Esteem and Identity Through Research, Writing, and Publication".

Whether it is left by beachgoers, or washes ashore, marine debris is a big, unsightly problem. Often it entangles or is eaten by birds, fish, turtles, marine mammals and other wildlife resulting in their deaths.

For people interested in participating in this clean-up the Lloyd Center will provide bags and gloves to conduct the clean-up. As the participants collect the trash, data will be collected on the different kinds of trash found during the clean-up. And to say thank you for your help, we have a free T-shirt for participants, so they can proclaim their support for coastal clean-ups all year.

People interested in this three hour clean-up from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon should call the Lloyd Center at 990-0505 to register. Be sure to wear old sneakers, or rubber boots, and rain gear if necessary.

Q. I can't see my video display terminal screen clearly with my bifocals. Is there a solution?

A. You may need to switch to trifocals, at least for wear on the job.

Trifocals give you three lens prescriptions--one for distance, one for near and one for intermediate distances, which is where your VDT screen is.

New wide-band trifocals have been developed specifically for VDT users. They provide not only a clear view of the VDT screen but also a full view. Regular trifocals provide only a partial view, so the wearer has to move his or her head to see the full screen from top to bottom.

The first step in relieving VDT-related eye complaints, however, is to have a thorough eye examination to diagnose and correct existing vision problems or inefficiencies. VDT work can aggravate these.

After evaluating your vision and reviewing your on-the-job vision demands, your optometrist can determine how to solve your work-related vision needs.

"Down to the Sea in Ships" is not only an authentic film about an 1850s whaling voyage, but the movie is really a romantic drama. The film tells the story of a wealthy whaleman, Charles W. Morgan (William Walcott) who wants his daughter Patience (Marguerite Courtot) only to marry a whaleman. She falls in love with Thomas Allen Dexter (Raymond McKee), a college graduate, who decides to win the hand of Patience by going whaling. Thus, the whaling voyage begins and the excitement of the whale hunt. While Dexter is away another suitor induces Morgan to permit him to marry Patience and just when the marriage is about to be performed at the church Dexter shows up and wins the girl for a happy ending.

Ms. Courtot and Mr. McKee were leading silent film stars in the 1920s. Clara Bow, only 17 at the time, plays the role of Charles Morgan's granddaughter who stows away on the whaling ship. This picture was her first movie role after winning the Motion Picture Magazine contest at age 16. Some of the cast were local actors and actresses, like the two children, Elizabeth Foley and Thomas White, who play the roles of Patience and Thomas when they were young.

Under the direction of Elmer Clifton, Hodkingson Pictures completed their filming in several locations including the towns of Fairhaven, New Bedford and Dartmouth. Some of the locales included the home of the Misses Howland, daughters of Weston Howland of Fairhaven; the gardens of the Howland home as well as the gardens surrounding the home of Frank Wood, who was at that time curator of the Museum of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society; The Sail Loft of Briggs and Beckman; The Seamen's Bethel; The Apponagansett Meeting House; "The Wanderer", one of the last of the old square-rigged type of whaling vessels; and "The Charles W. Morgan", the "piece de resistance" of Elmer Clifton's production, the oldest whaling vessel afloat at that time, having been built in New Bedford in 1842.

The audience members are invited to come dressed in vintage apparel either from the time period of the movie, the 1850s, or the time of the premiere screening, the 1920s.

The Zeiterion Theatre is located at 684 Purchase Street in historic, downtown New Bedford. The theatre is wheelchair accessible.

Volunteers Wanted

FOR ZEITERION THEATRE

New Bedford's Zeiterion Theatre is looking for volunteers; no experience necessary, for ushering, clerical and computer data entry work.

If you enjoy ushering we're looking for people to usher all of the Zeiterion's shows especially the school-time performance series. Retirees, moms and dads at home during the day may enjoy ushering the school-time shows. The shows are usually held two days a week, once or twice a month, in the morning and early afternoon. By being an usher you'll be able to see some of the best in live theatre from around the world.

We're also looking for volunteers to help with special projects like mailing various brochures and updating mailing lists in our computer.

If you're interested in volunteering for any of these activities please call the Zeiterion's Administrative office at 997-5664. The Zeiterion is located at 684 Purchase Street in historic, downtown New Bedford.

N.B. Whaling Museum

The New Bedford Whaling Museum is seeking volunteers who want to become museum guides or library aides. After successfully completing a fourteen-weeks course given by the Museum at no charge, volunteers lead guided tours of the exhibits, give talks on whaling and local history to school groups
